15 October 2020

Audinate Group Limited 2020 ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

Thursday, 15 October 2020 at 9.30am (Sydney time).

Chairman's Address

Before our CEO Aidan Williams addresses us, I would like to welcome our directors that have joined us here virtually today, and would like to make a few comments.

There is little doubt that the COVID-19 crisis has made financial year 2020 a particularly tumultuous period for even the most seasoned CEOs. However, even with all the operational and day-to-day challenges that have arisen from this once in a generation event, Aidan has done a fantastic job continuing to progress Audinate's growth trajectory.

The Board have all been impressed by the mature and calm manner in which Aidan has balanced the immediate tactical demands of the business with an ongoing focus on strategic imperatives. We are also fortunate to have a level of depth, experience and expertise within our Executive Leadership team that have made an invaluable contribution in supporting Audinate's growth. On behalf of the Board, I would like to recognise and thank Aidan, the Executive Leadership Team, and the entire staff of Audinate for their persistence, dedication and teamwork in the extremely challenging and demanding environment that we have experienced this year.

I would also like to thank all our shareholders for their continued commitment and support. After year-end, Audinate completed a $40 million equity raise which has provided growth capital and de-risked the business from the ongoing uncertainties and impacts of COVID-19. This capital injection also enhances our ability to consider strategic acquisitions. The placement raised $28 million at a 5.1% discount to the 5-day VWAP and a further $12 million was raised via an SPP at a 2.0% discount to the VWAP, both representing low levels of dilution for shareholders and strongly oversubscribed.

During the year, the business has continued to make good progress in achieving its medium-term objectives despite the challenging environment in the second half. The uptake of our new Dante products has been particularly encouraging with the number of design wins across Dante video, Dante Embedded Platform, Dante Application Library and IP core representing a strong market endorsement of these products. Notably, the Dante Embedded Platform introduces the capability for an end-user to add Dante to an existing AV product in the field. This is a significant step in the evolution of our business model and something we expect will aid the proliferation of our technology.

Product development requires new business infrastructure to enable and support it. Accordingly, it is pleasing to see the progress Audinate has made this year in terms of code protection and in-field licensing and enablement. The fulfilment of these capabilities is an essential strategic objective for the year ahead.

The establishment of a manufacturing line in Malaysia was initiated to address the imposition of US tariffs on Chinese imports. Following the emergence of the COVID-19 crisis, this provided critical business continuity and allowed us to maintain supply as many others experienced disruption. The opening of our office in the Philippines, amid COVID-19, was another important step in building out the business platform to support growth and achieve operational efficiencies.

We have made important progress in the video market this year, delivering our Dante AV Product Design Suite to customers in April, securing several design wins, facilitating a demo of the first Dante video camera by Bolin, and launching the Authorised Implementer Program to enable the production of white-labelled Dante video products. The launch of the first Dante video products by our customers will be another milestone we expect to achieve in the year ahead.

The milestones Audinate achieves in the near term will position the Company and our stakeholders to benefit from the economic recovery to come. We retain a strong conviction in our business and strategy to enable a transformation of the AV industry. Again, I would like to express my gratitude to the Audinate team and all our shareholders for their continued commitment and support throughout this challenging year.

I would now like to welcome Aidan Williams, our Chief Executive Officer, to address you.
